Colgate Ensemble To Provide Entertainment; Coronation of Queen Highlights Annual Event

by JOE GILLAN

The Campus Serenaders, an eight piece band from the University of Colgate, will provide the music and entertainment at Phi Epsilon Kappa's 12th annual Sweetheart's Ball to be held this Saturday at the V.F.W. Hall from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

CERRACHE TO ERECT POLES; TO SERVICE WICB-TV CABLE

by BERT HELFNER

The Cerrache Television Corp. has informed the Board of Public Works of the City of Ithaca, of a plan to put up some 1,035 poles to carry its television cable service throughout the city.

The proposal came on the heels of a formal complaint which was filed with the Public Service Commission against the Telephone Company's decision to raise rental charges of the cable system from $3 to $5 per pole, per year. Cerrache now rents space from the Telephone Co. on some 2,500 poles.

Cerrache believes that if the $2 raise goes into effect on July 1st of this year, the current $2.75 per month subscription rates to cable users will be raised.

Cerrache says, "It looks like there is only one way out, and that is to put up our own poles." He has, he said, ordered a carload of poles, scheduled to arrive around the first of the month. "Putting up our own poles," says Cerrache, "will enable us to serve the community better, and at a reasonable rate."

If the Television Shop, Cerrache Television Corp. subsidiary, and cable operator, puts up its own poles, chances are that the present $2.75 rate will remain in force, and Ithaca College Television could remain on the cable without opposition.

Cerrache says that putting up his own poles will cost as much as, or if not less than current costs for maintenance and rental of Telephone Co. poles.

Cerrache added that at present the cable system utilizes more poles than needed to cover the city adequately.

Cerrache said, that Ithaca College could make use of his facilities but not for longer periods of time than at present. In order to do this, he would have to eliminate one channel completely or supply high band channels for cable use. (channels 7-13). The expense of such a move, would be prohibitive and reception might well not be as good as it is now on the 5 low band channels now used in Ithaca. (channels 2-6).

He said that the college is doing a great public service to the community via its television operation, and said he would make every effort to keep WICB-TV on the air.

Candidates For "The Queen of the Sweetheart's Ball, (l-r) Lenni Wagner, Mary Ottoway, Mary Ann Teleisha, and Joan Sensemeyer. Joan Matejka, the 5th candidate, was absent.

IFC RULES:

Pleging Laws Must Be Heeded

by T. BUTTINO

A warning to all fraternities and sororities concerning pledging restrictions was a result of the Feb. 11th meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Council. The council is going to strictly enforce their constitutional ruling when pledging begins on March 16th. The rule states that "all organizations must follow the Faculty request that no improper dressing or activities that make pledges conspicuous shall be carried on outside of the organization houses. No activity that is dangerous to a pledge may be engaged in at any time!! Specific references were made to those representatives requesting them.

Sparked by requests by Dean Arnold Wilhelm, of the physical education department and other members of the faculty, the IFC decided upon strict enforcement of the rule.

Dean Clarke, Dean of Students, mentioned at the meeting that the biggest objection was in carrying pledging into the classroom and annoying teachers during class time. He suggested constructive pledging in the place of "horse-play."

It was the council's opinion that the classroom and library be off limits for pledging.

The final outcome of the meeting was stated by Dean Howard: "In a wholehearted effort to cooperate with the administration, the IFC warns that if individual organizations be reported by the administration, as violating the restricted rushing, these organizations may forfeit their right to pledge the following semester." This was agreed to by a majority of the council members.

The next meeting is scheduled for March 13th.

8:15 College Theatre

Annual Concerto Program Sunday

by JAN CONSALVI

The Ithaca College School of Music will present one of the largest musical events of the year, February 22, at 8:15 in the Ithaca College theatre. It's the 11th Annual Concerto Program.

Students for this program compete before a committee of faculty members. The seven music students chosen for this year's program are: Mark Cleghorn, Virginia Lesche, Joyce Chesley, Persis Parrshall, Eugene Attleson, Theodore Wiltsie, Marylou McCullough.

The Concertoes to be performed on the program are: Concerto #5 in A Major K 219 — Mozart, Mark Cleghorn, violin. Concerto #2 in G minor Op. 22—Saint-Saens, Virginia Lesche, Piano.

"Il est doux, il est bon" from Heriodlade — Massenet, Mary Lou McCullough, Soprano. Concerto in g minor Op. 26—Bruch, Joyce Chesley, violin. Concerto for Five Kettle Drums and Orchestra—Parris, Eugene Attleson, Tympani. "It is Enough" from Elijah —Mendelssohn, Theodore Wiltsie, bass. Wanderer Fantasia—Schubert - Listz, Persis Parrshall, Piano.

The College Orchestra will be conducted by Mr. Edward Troupin.

College - Council Relations Discussed With President

The Ithaca College Student Council met with College President Howard I. Dillingham Monday evening to discuss the relationship between the council and college administration officials.

Council members had suggested the meeting as a means of inquiring into two areas:

1. In what fields the council might act without interference from the administration.

2. Whether or not the administration would support council decisions relevant to these spheres of interest.

President Dillingham discussed generally the general aspects of Student Council and its various powers, and stressed that the council could not be given jurisdiction in the area of student conduct.

The council gave as one reason for its inquiry the recent confusion as to student drinking regulations.

In the fall of 1957 the council was asked by the administration to take steps designed to avoid incidents similar to those which occurred during the college's Fall Weekend. New drinking regulations were drawn up and presented to the student body within two months of the edict. Last month President Dillingham released a statement of policy concerning the possession and serving of alcoholic beverages on Ithaca College property, and at social functions in facilities used by student organizations. The new statement was prepared and distributed without the knowledge of Student Council members.

President Dillingham stated that the administration had to have a veto power over all student activities and conduct, and that the Board of Trustees must have an absolute veto over the entire

The Serenaders are one of New York's top collegiate ensembles touring the circuit this year. They feature a Dixieland Jazz trio within the band itself.

Highlighting the evening however, will be the coronation of Phi-E. K.'s Queen of the Sweetheart's Ball. The ceremony will occur at approximately 11:15 p.m. The five candidates for the honor are Joan Matejka, Mary Ottoway, Joan Sensemeyer, Mary Ann Teleisha, and Lenni Wagner.

Miss Ottoway and Miss Teleisha are freshmen in the Physical Education Department. Miss Matejka is a junior in Phy Ed, and Miss Sensemeyer is a junior in the Music Department. Miss Wagner, the only senior, is in the Radio-Television Dept.

The Queen of the Sweetheart's Ball is one of the top honors which is bestowed upon an Ithaca College coed. The annual event saw Miss Carol Starkman reign as Queen last year.

Girls attending the dance will be allowed 1:45 a.m. permissions.

Mayer Assigned To Administration Post Of College

Joseph N. Mayer, treasurer of Ithaca College, has been assigned additional duties as the college's administrator of federal fund grants in connection with recently passed National Defense Education Act of 1958, and such other federal legislation as may be enacted involving aid to higher education.

President Howard I. Dillingham of the college, said that Mayer, who in addition to his regular duties has worked closely with the government during the past seven years as Veterans Advisor at the college, would administer all phases of the National Defense Education Act applicable to the college.

This will include the student loan program for which the college has already been allocated $10,097 for the current semester. grants for development of guidance, counseling at testing centers, modern foreign language development, and research and experimentation in more effective use of television, radio, motion pictures and related media for education.

Mayer reported today that the initial allocation to the college under the student loan program has been fully utilized in granting thirty-five loans ranging from $150 to $500 each to students at the college who might otherwise have been forced to leave school at the end of last semester for lack of funds.

For the next school year there will be over $6,000,000 allocated to New York State Schools, and it can be expected that the college will have several times the current allocation available for loan to needy students.

C. LEVY

Those who know run the show

Should the administration have dictatorial powers in governing the student body, or should the student body, through the Student Council, govern the students?

It is my opinion that students on the whole care very little about school affairs and, from the contacts I have had with certain members of the student body, I believe that the majority of the students do not have the slightest idea of the problems confronting the members of the faculty and administration in the matters of student government.

The school is an organization which is run from the top down. The administration has every right to decide what the students can and can not do. This point is hotly debated by the dreamers of a perfect democracy, which has never existed and if it did, it's as dead as Romantic Chivalry. In an organization such as a college or university, there are two kinds of people, those who are aware of the problems of running an institution of higher learning, who have had professional training in administration, etc. and the students who are searching for and demanding their "democratic rights".

It is unfortunate that many people, one or two years out of high school, or those who have been outside longer but who have never had any experience in organization or administration should one day find exactly what ails Ithaca College. These bright geniuses are idealists; their brainstorms are about as applicable as going in blue jeans to a formal.

In all, let's be very truthful, the students do not know the problems of the school, many even care less, and when a rumor is floated through school many get excited about something of which they have not the faintest glimmer of understanding. The school is a benevolent dictatorship—it has to be, as the organization and purpose is to give one an education. It does not exist for the purpose of students to tell how they should be educated, and how the school should be run.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Scampers:

Certainly congratulations are in order and I offer mine to all who had a part in your splendid production. I have attended all Scamper productions for eleven years and I have never enjoyed a better one. I won't attempt to single out individuals because everyone did his part so well. Let me simply say that I thoroughly enjoyed the evening and was very proud of all of you.

Sincerely,
Earl E. Clarke

This article is the first of a new series of articles to describe people, places, events, opinions and things around or on the Ithaca College campus. Within a probability this may also be the last of the same series.

All information in this column comes from the contributions of students, teachers, administrative officials, news releases and a whole host of subversives and spies. If this column is to continue, the Ithacan must have the news to print.

If you have any ideas, news, notices of meetings, opinions (nothing radical-like an editorial) or any quips or humorous events, just leave them in the Around V. C. basket (not the trash basket) in the Ithacan Office.

All information for this column must be in the hands of the Ithacan serfs by Sunday Noon. We will be glad to answer any requests that you may have; all replies will be sent in plain brown wrappers.

Comments on this column will be appreciated. Good comments will be printed, others will be conveniently lost.

THINGS:

Ithaca College will conduct an extension education program in the Capitol District for teachers who wish to obtain a master of science degree in physical education. For more information contact the office of graduate studies.

Six graduate fellowships for future secondary school chemistry, physics, or mathematics are available at Cornell University for the 1959-1960 academic year. For more information write Professor Philip G. Johnson, 3 Stone Hall, Cornell University.

PEOPLE:

Gerald R. Bearce, of Brandeton, Florida, a graduate of Ithaca College, was commissioned a Marine second lieutenant, Dec. 6, at Quantico, Va.

On January 31, 1959, Mr. John, a thirty-two year employee of Ithaca College, retired. All of Mr. John's friends wish him the best of everything on his retirement.

Duke Starr (Speech '60) has gone into the wig manufacturing business. If you are in the habit of flipping your lid, see Duke for replacements.

Dear Rabbe,

I was very surprised last week when the Who's Who listings came out in your paper and my name wasn't on it. Except for the fact that I flunked sandpile as a kindergarten student in Bay City, Iowa my scholastic record has remained unblemished. I ran into a similar problem last year when I applied to Time Magazine to be Man of the Year and was turned down. What can I do to gain the recognition I really deserve?

Mr. O. Heck

Formerly of Bay City, Iowa

Dear Mr. Heck,

I know how you feel, I flunked Sandpile myself and didn't make Who's Who. I guess we'll both have to accept the fact that we're marked for life.

Drama Review

The Social Event of the Season

by Don Kline

Last week, appreciative audiences in the Ithaca College Theater vigorously applauded the efforts of the many students responsible for "The Social Event of the Season." The event, of course, was Scampers of '59. The book, written by Jared Brown and Charles Moss, was sufficient to hold together a group of songs by Larry Holdridge, which ranged from mediocre to great, and from almost too familiar to excitingly original. Despite the fact that the plot got lost several times behind the sparkle of the trimmings, the end result was a laugh filled evening of musical entertainment.

The story centered around the eccentric character of Edward, a one man "Campus Confidential" and self-appointed social director, who's passion for finding a loop-hole in the college rules nearly succeeds in destroying the romance of the school most popular pair. Peter Stambaugh's performance in the role was executed with a graceful ease that gained frequent approval from the audience.

After a clever "Roll Call" opener, the show's first big shot in the arm was scored by the three gossip "Housemothers Forever,"—brilliantly played by Esther Glatt, Cyndee Raglyn, and Barbara Ernst.

The romantic leads, Frank and Nancy, were played by Jerry Carbone and Marylou McCullough. Their performances, although lacking in polish, and showing the need for a little more experience, were believable enough to carry the story to its happy climax. Miss McCullough was accorded ample opportunity to show off her lovely voice, which was unfortunately a little too weak at times to carry over the orchestra.

Two really fine performances were turned in by Jack Cantwell and co-author, Charlie Moss. Cantwell, as the absent minded Dean, Dean Dean, showed a keen sense of timing and a real flare for comedy. His rapid but flawless delivery of words in the almost Gilbert and Sullivanish "Apartment Life" number fairly sparkled, while Mr. Moss' portrayal of the incredibly stupid but heartwarming "Monk" added a note of real pathos in a scene in which he attempts to console the broken-hearted Nancy.

The orchestra, under the direction of Jim Leopardi, gave a solid musical base for some excellent choreography by Joyce Chumbley in "Sally's Cha Cha" and "All That Jazz." Leonard ably led his group (one of the finest Scampers orchestras yet!) through some pretty difficult arrangements—a few of which were a little too thin to adequately support the vocalists on the stage.

Fred Bock's work with the chorus paid off admirably in the "Illworth Alma Mater", but occasionally, the lack of clarity in the group's enunciation became a little too disturbing to be overlooked.

Against the background of Jim Miller's eye-catching sets, "The Social Event of the Season" scored as a real landmark in the annals of Scampers history. Certainly it has proved the worthiness of an Ithaca College tradition which has suffered unjustly in recent years from the all too frequent attempts at repression.

ECO Club

Initial Meeting Set

The first formal meeting of the new Ithaca College Economics Club will be held on March 2, 1959. The meeting place will be announced.

Dr. Alfred Kraessel will speak on the economic situation in South America. This will be followed by an informal discussion.

The newly formed organization will have a businessman's atmosphere as they intend to meet in a hotel lounge and have guest speakers from outside the college.

Hillel

To Meet February 19

There will be a core group meeting of the Hillel Club of Ithaca College at 4:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 19 in Room 13 of the College Annex. The Hillel officers invite all members and those interested to attend this important meeting. The new advisor for Hillel, Dr. Alfred Krissel will discuss with the members the plans for another Bagels ar' Lox Brunch and the possibility of producing a talent show. All members and students are welcome at this meeting. For further information, contact Ruben Marshall at Ithaca 3-1161.

Physios

Institute Being Planned

The tentative date for the annual Physio Therapy Institute is the first weekend of May. The Co-chairman, Charleen S. Mann and John Symonds, are planning an interesting and informative program which should prove to be of interest to many people outside of the Physiotherapy Department. Although not definite, the fraternity hopes to have Dr. Alexander, who is the head of the Physiotherapy students in New York City. He will bring New York to Ithaca, and explain the situation as it is at Albert Einstein Medical College.

Newman Lodge

Elect Iffinger Pres.

The men of Newman Lodge held house elections Feb. 1. House officers are elected each mid-semester and hold office until the following mid-semester.

Howard Iffinger, a Junior in the Physical Education Department, was elected to the presidency. Howie is a brother in Phi. E. K. and was past treasurer. William Moclair will serve as both Vice President and house manager. Bill is a navy veteran and is a Citizenship Education major.

Elected as House-Treasurer was Al Gala, a sophomore in the Physical Education Department. Al played Varsity football and is on the Gymnastics team. Robert Poblowski was reelected as Secretary. Bob is a sophomore in Physical Education.

Greg Aversa will continue as Student resident adviser. Father Zimmer is Chaplain Adviser.

W.A.A.

To Compete In Syracuse

The Women's Athletic Association has accepted an invitation to attend Sportsday at Syracuse University, on February 21. Members will participate in basketball, volleyball, bowling, skiing, and swimming.

The basketball tournament will continue this Thursday night at 7 p.m., at the Aurora Gymnasium.

Alphabet Soup

by Ken Murray

Tonight (Wed. 18) is the last chance for local fans to see the 1958-59 basketball Bombers in action. They'll make their final home appearance of the season against a tough Quantico Marine club at Boynton Gym. It should be a close one, and a good one to watch.

Although the season isn't over as yet (the boys have four more games left, all on the road), perhaps a few words on the season up to this point would be fitting here.

The Bombers have come a long way since early in December. As of now, they're assured of a winning season, and could easily improve over last year's 12-8 record.

It's often surprising how much a club may change as a season progresses. In their first few games the Bombers didn't look like a good ball club. They weren't playing the type of ball everyone knew they were capable of. Against Cortland, at home, the Bombers looked anything but good, and perhaps a low was reached that night. However, from there on, there was a gradual improvement in team and individual play. When the Holidays were over the club began to roll in high gear. Over the past six weeks the boys have been clicking together and there have been some great individual performances. Liebrock, Slomkowski, and Churchill have turned in consistently good floor games. Slomkowski's big scoring punch has been followed up by double figure performances by one or more of the other boys in every game. The numerous costly violations of early season were cut down. All these factors have contributed to a successful season. The club deserves credit for its improvement. So for that improvement, here's a "well done" salute to our team, and a "good luck" for the remaining games.

This month of February also features the last flings of the wrestling team that could be dubbed I.C.'s hard luck club of the year. It's 2-5 record has been compiled through a series of close matches, which unfortunately, in most cases have been losses for the Bombers. It's tough to lose a weight class by one or two points, and tragic when several close losses result in a match defeat. However, a win is a win no matter by 2 or 200 points.

Last Saturday, the Bombers found the winds favorable for victory as they soundly clobbered the University of Buffalo. With a little bit of luck and some hard work the grapplers could pull up to the .500 mark for the season. As with the basketballers their final three contests are all on the road. They face Alfred this Saturday, and wind up against Cortland, and Oswego on successive Saturdays. The line-ups should remain relatively stable. Possible changes might be at 167 and 177. The competition here will come from Joe Dailey and Stork Raymond challenging Ross Violi and Ray McFarlane respectively. Otherwise the lineup of Sangiorgi, Valentine, Bona, Canough, Rafferty, and Marella should hold.

SPORT SIDELIGHTS—Isn't it a bit sad when you stop to think that Cornell University has a bad hockey team with a bad record, while Ithaca College had a good hockey team that now has no record at all. . . . According to the latest available figures the Bomber field goal percentage is over 45%. That's pretty good shooting in any league. . . . International sports competition is often unpredictable to say the least. A couple of weeks ago Chile won the international basketball title because the powers that be in this country thought that any old throw-together team would walk off with the championship, and because Russia refused to play Nationalist China because of political reasons. Just last week, Australia came from down under to wrest the Cricket championship from England. In the latter case, everything was strictly "cricket", but in the former case, I'm not quite so sure that everything was quite "cricket" at all. . . .

Wrestlers Romp 33-3, At Buffalo

Saturday Coach Herb Broadwell took the I.C. wrestlers to meet the Buffalo Bulls. Ithaca showed their real strength by beating Buffalo 33-3.

Joe Sangiorgi started things off when he pinned George Fechs in the second period.

In the 130 lb. class Jim Valentine turned Jerry Tuecho everywhere but loose and pinned him with only two minutes gone in the first period. Jimbo used a reverse half nelson and crotch hold.

The only blue part of the day was when Dick Bona ran into a real match and was decisioned after a tough fight.

Weldie Canough proved his real strength by pinning Buffalo's Jim Green in the second period with a arm bar and chin hold.

Jimmy Rafferty got back on the winning ways by going all out with a 5-0 decision over Buffalo's Bill Harrell.

Ross Violi also registered a pin over Charlie Manino and Ray Mac Farlane also pinned Alex Brogenfield with only 4 minutes gone in the match.

Tiny Marella also kept up his winning ways with a pin over Kenney Boon with only 52 seconds gone in the match.

BOMBERS BOMB WILKES 117-73; 15 MEN SCORE

by Greg Aversa

Boynton Junior High gymnasium was the scene of a mass slaughter last Thursday night, when a contingent of coal-crackin' basketeers from Wilkes College, Pa. met with a much-better-than ever I.C. Bomber squad. Weeping to the tune of 111-73 the Pennsylvanians were turned away when Coach "Carp" Wood cleared his bench and had all his men, save one, hit the scoring column.

It was as Phil Liebrock who started the scoring with his free throw after 55 seconds of play in the first quarter. Then Don Churchill followed with a goal. With both teams scoring at the pace of two points per, and I.C. out ahead 13-8 Don Axtell, the Bombers cool headed floor-man, dunked two baskets in succession to boost the lead to 9 points. Strickland followed with a lay-up to bring the score up to 20-10. Graham, Slonis and Wambold were sent in with 2 min 45 seconds remaining and finished the quarter when Graham fouled on a converted lay up, made his foul throw and the score stood at 25-18.

STRICK-STRIKES

In the second quarter Ithaca led by at least 12 points throughout with George Strickland, the lanky sophomore with the soft lay up, showing his finest as he controlled the boards for the most part. Chuck Bailey was added to the crew in place of Don Axtell. When the half ended Strick had 15. Slom 8 and the score stood 55-37.

I.C. won the tap with the start of the second half and after Wilkes converted for 2 Bob Hoyt passed to Wambold setting up a fast break with Wambold laying it up for two. With the score 62-49 Liebrock returned for Wambold and set off an exhibition of fast breaks for the Bombers with the aid of Churchill and Slom. Minutes later Don Churchill was forced to leave the game with an ankle injury. The third period ended with I.C. out ahead 81-58.

With the game just about iced at the start of the fourth quarter, Coach Wood began to send in his reserves. The quarter was highlighted by Mike O'Brien, a sophomore from the Albany area, who demonstrated the power Coach Wood has on his bench.

It was O'Brien and Mueller leading the reserve squad of sophomores to the final gun when Ithaca was 38 points better than Wilkes. Final score 111-73 with Strickland high for the night with 23 points and Slomkowski next with 16.

SHORT-SHOTS—This game fell 6 points short of highest single game total recorded against Clarkson Feb. 9 '57 (117-97)—Church's ankle injury was a bad twist—he'll resume duties tonight when the Quantico Marines invade Ithaca —Mike J. O'Brien has an outstanding basketball career behind him at Cathedral High but an even better one in baseball having been named to the Herst All-American High School baseball squad — no doubt a credit to the tri-city area— 16 of 17 men who played scored—2 Wilkes men left the game on fouls —Tonight I.C. vs. Quantico here—

THINKLISH

English: DRIVE-IN MOVIE ON A RAINY NIGHT

Thinklish translation: This drive-in's main feature: pictures matched to the weather. In January, it's Snow White; in July, Hot Spell. When it pours, of course, the program is all wet: Singing in the Rain, Hatful of Rain and Rain-tree County. On such nights, the only (Thinklish) word for this place is damphitheater! Better turn on your windshield wipers, light up a Lucky, and enjoy the honest taste of fine tobacco. Then It's Always Fair Weather!

MAKE $25

Start talking our language—we've got hundreds of checks just itching to go! We're paying $25 each for the Thinklish words judged best! Thinklish is easy: it's new words from two words—like those on this page. Send yours to Lucky Strike, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Enclose your name, address, college and class.
